

POINT-OF-ATTRACTION

To attract passersby into a retail store, visually captivating content that reflects the evolving desires of its target audience throughout the day is needed to intrigue and entice. HP High Definition digital signage displays, such as the HP LD4700 47-inch Widescreen LCD Digital Signage, are able to achieve this by playing a variety of engaging graphics that lead the customer into the retail space. The display offers the ability to run 24/7 with low power usage that allows for longevity, unlike large TV screens. The HP LD4700 47-inch Widescreen LCD Digital Signage is available today at the recommended starting price of $2,699 including GST.
